Are you offering philanthropic services to your clients? The United Jewish Endowment Fund can help.

Over the next several decades, as baby boomers age and transfer their wealth to the next generation, an unprecedented $41 trillion will change hands, according to researchers from the Social Welfare Research Institute at Boston College, whose report focuses on the 55-year period between 1998 and 2052.

Beginning a conversation with your client about charitable giving can be as simple as asking, “Do you have a favorite charity or charities?” If the answer to that question is “yes,” you have the valuable opportunity to show your client the role that charitable giving can play in his or her individual financial and estate plans.

Talking points for opening the philanthropic conversation with your clients:

- Do you have a favorite charity or charities? Endowments allow donors to support the causes that have been important to them during their lifetime, for generations. Donors can Create a Jewish Legacy working with The United Jewish Endowment Fund.

- Do you give to more than one charitable cause? UJEF can help through gifts supporting multiple charities.

- Are you interested in creating a personal or family legacy in the community? Name your endowment fund after your family or a loved one.

- Would you like to learn about charitable giving options that will create both an income stream for you and/or another and give you a current charitable tax deduction? You can suggest either a charitable remainder trust or a charitable gift annuity.

- Have you considered establishing a private foundation? UJEF offers donor advised funds and supporting organizations as alternatives to private foundations.

- Do you care about the stewardship and financial management of your contributions? The United Jewish Endowment Fund oversees the investment management of the funds.

- Are you interested in involving multiple generations in your family’s philanthropy? UJEF can work with you to identify your area of interest and philanthropic mission.

- Would you like to advise on grant making? A donor advised fund allows you to recommend charitable distributions.
