Who We Are...

Data from the 2017 Greater Washington Jewish Community Demographic Study, funded by The Morningstar Foundation. The study comes at a pivotal time for our Jewish community—one of the fastest growing Jewish communities in the United States. Conducted by the Cohen Center for Modern Jewish Studies and the Steinhardt Social Research Institute at Brandeis University, the study creates a comprehensive portrait of the characteristics, attitudes and behaviors of Greater Washington’s Jewish community.
Dear Friends,

We invite you to join us in celebrating Jewish Greater Washington. Ours is a large, growing, and engaged Jewish community, and we are blessed to live amongst many of the strongest, most vibrant Jewish organizations and creative leaders in the country.

As a Jewish people, our 3,500 years of tradition, literature, and wisdom connect us as a people and drive us forward. Our core beliefs, that all people are created in God’s image and that we have the capacity to transform the world, have elevated our collective aspirations. We envision an open, connected, and vibrant Jewish community that cares for each other, fosters Jewish learning and journeys, embraces Jewish peoplehood and Israel, and acts as a force for good in the world. Together, we are building precisely that.

The Jewish Federation of Greater Washington partners with many individuals and organizations, mobilizing in common purpose, intentional innovation, and effective action. The Jewish Federation of Greater Washington partners with many individuals and organizations, mobilizing in common purpose, intentional innovation, and effective action to which we aspire.

In this 2018 Community Report, we are pleased to shine a spotlight on several members of our community who benefit from the work of Federation and our many partner organizations. These meaningful accomplishments are only possible thanks to your generosity and that of many other community members and Federation donors. We invite you to join us as we continue to build our vibrant community for this generation and beyond in a changing world.

Whether these pages are your first introduction to our work or you have been a dedicated supporter for decades, we hope you find meaning and motivation in the stories and achievements highlighted here.

By embracing our tradition and accepting the responsibility of shaping the Jewish future, we will continue to build the community to which we aspire.

Sincerely,

Gary Berman

Vision for Our Community

An open, connected, and vibrant Jewish community that cares for each other, fosters Jewish learning and journeys, embraces Jewish peoplehood and Israel, and acts as a force for good in the world.

Our Mission

To inspire, build, and sustain vibrant Jewish life in a changing world by mobilizing our community in common purpose, intentional innovation, and effective action.

Jacob is working independently

“I have a mug with my name on it, and a desk. I go to staff meetings. I like my job at Federation. I love being on the team.”

—Jewish W. MOST™ intern at The Jewish Federation

Mindy has found her community

“GLOE has been a home-base for me—a place where I don’t have to choose between my LGBTQ identity and my Jewish identity. The program offers a unique balance of educational, spiritual, and social opportunities, and—most of all—it is a place to find community.”

—Mindy G., GLOE participant

Chris and his family feel represented

“It was incredible to open our PJ Library book and see that it perfectly reflected our intercultural and interfaith family. My wife actually broke down and cried with joy when she read through the book and saw our family sitting at the Shabbat table.”

—Chris Z., PJ Library™ parent

Federation proudly supports the Jewish Foundation for Group Homes’ Sally and Robert Goldberg Maryland Meaningful Opportunities for Successful Transitions (MOST™) program, which prepares individuals with disabilities for independent, self-sustaining adulthood by providing real world professional experience. This year, Federation was proud to welcome Jacob as our third MOST™ intern.

Federation proudly supports the Jewish Foundation for Group Homes’ Sally and Robert Goldberg Maryland Meaningful Opportunities for Successful Transitions (MOST™) program, which prepares individuals with disabilities for independent, self-sustaining adulthood by providing real world professional experience. This year, Federation was proud to welcome Jacob as our third MOST™ intern.

Federation proudly brings PJ Library and PJ Our Way to Greater Washington, connecting 7,691 families with young children (ages 0–11) to Jewish life, one another, and our larger community. Each month, children enrolled in these programs receive free Jewish books as a gift from Federation, the Harold Grinspoon Foundation, and other generous donors. Each title is carefully selected to encourage family discussions around Jewish values and traditions. Beyond being a great reason to snuggle up for a bedtime story, PJ Library serves as a catalyst for families to feel at home in our larger community—meeting and coming together with other parents and children for storytelling, volunteer opportunities, holiday celebrations, and more.
WE ARE... Engaging

WITH ONE ANOTHER
To live in an engaged community is to live in a place that offers diverse opportunities to explore Judaism, connect with like-minded people, and act as a force for good in the world. Federation, together with partners across MD, DC, and Northern VA, ensures endless possibilities for meaningful connectivity for all who seek it.

“Federation has enriched my life by connecting me to mentors in the community, friends with similar values, and empowering leadership opportunities. It’s made me a more engaged citizen of the Jewish community and a more intentional philanthropist. It’s helped root me more permanently in DC, a transient city, by anchoring me in such a strong community.”
—Jamie P., board member (2015–2018), Federation’s Young Leadership Council

“Community service is something you do for others, but it also feels really good to make small changes and small positive impacts.”
—Jessa E., Co-Chair, Sara & Samuel J. Lessans Good Deeds Day and member, Jewish Federations of North America’s National Young Leadership Cabinet

“Drag Queen Havdalah & Storytime at our shul...how times have changed! I am grateful that we can be out and proud within our Jewish community.”
—Nicole B., member, Temple Shalom

“Honeymoon Israel was one of the best experiences of my life. The connections we both formed with our new Jewish community have reinvigorated my love for my culture and given my husband a confidence in claiming his relationship with Judaism that I only wished was possible.”
—Kendra R., Honeymoon Israel participant

Honeymoon Israel, empowered by funding from Federation, provides trips to Israel for couples with at least one Jewish partner, but the journey does not end when couples return. After the trip, participants are encouraged to build and strengthen their new community of peers. Locally, alumni groups are organizing Chanukah parties, Passover seders, Shabbat dinners, volunteer projects, and more—foraging Jewish community and discovering meaningful ways to incorporate Judaism into their lives.

Sarah sees food as the ultimate connector
“Federation’s Jewish Food Experience® is the ultimate connector, bringing together DC-area Jews of all stripes to share their diverse passions for food in creative ways, both online and offline.”
—Sarah N., Food Insecurity Activist and International Blogger

Moishe House, a Federation partner, enables young adults in their 20s to create meaningful, home-based Jewish experiences for themselves and their peers. Moishe House provides rent subsidies and program budgets to its millennial residents, who then use their home to create their ideal Jewish communal space.

“I was in college when I truly began my Jewish journey. I joined a synagogue, studied in Israel, and worked at a Jewish organization, but I was still missing a network of Jewish peers. By living in a Moishe House and organizing innovative and engaging programs for Jewish young adults in Northern Virginia, I have found my community and the missing puzzle piece in my Jewish identity.”

WE ARE... Building

JEISH IDENTITY

Establishing a Jewish identity is a lifelong journey. As we find ourselves more fully immersed in Jewish life, we deepen our connections to fellow community members and build relationships that sustain us through every stage of life. Together with our partners across Greater Washington and around the world, Federation invigorates Jewish life for all community members, offering a multitude of opportunities for connection and for discovering how they can live a life infused with Jewish meaning.

Cheryl feels supported in raising a Jewish family

For families with young children living in Northern Virginia (NoVa), the j.family ambassadors initiative makes the NoVa Jewish community more welcoming, inviting, and accessible by connecting families to Jewish programming, resources, and to each other. The program is fully funded by Federation and presented in partnership with the JCC of Northern Virginia. It will expand in the coming year to Montgomery County and Washington, DC, in partnership with the Bender JCC of Greater Washington and the Edlavitch DCJCC.

"When we started a family, we knew almost no one Jewish in Northern Virginia. I had no idea the impact the j.family ambassadors program would make to our lives over the last couple years. The feeling of being welcomed into a Jewish community I didn't even know existed was so amazing! This program has enriched our lives more than we could have ever imagined."

—Cheryl K., participant, j.family ambassadors

Mira is securing her Jewish values as a teen philanthropist

Federation’s Jteen Philanthropy goes beyond a simple tzedakah (charity) lesson or fundraising project. By engaging teens in collective philanthropic giving, this program helps youth understand the Jewish obligation of tzedakah on a deeper level and provides them with an opportunity to make a direct impact on the world.

"Throughout my Jteen experience, I have not only learned how to be a philanthropist, but how our Jewish values can influence the way we help others. At Jteen, I was able to channel both my love for helping others and the love for Judaism I carry with me."

—Mira F., graduate, Jteen Philanthropy

Establishing Jewish identity in the Baltics

For families from the Jewish communities of post-Soviet Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, opportunities to instill strong Jewish identity in their children are limited. Olameinu Mischpacha Baltic Jewish Family Camp, supported by Federation partner the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee (JDC), offers campers the invaluable chance to take part in a larger Jewish community that teaches Jewish values, observes traditional customs, and celebrates Shabbat.

"Sometimes it is challenging to admit to others that you are Jewish. Being at camp is like having a second family. I learn more and more about Judaism and how to work better with the kids. This summer, I realized that if I try hard enough, I can always connect with each and every one of the chanichim (campers)."

—Dan B., counselor, Camp Olameinu/Mischpacha

Jewish camp is awakening self-discovery

"I never thought I’d learn so much about myself and others in seven weeks. I’ve gained more patience, conflict resolution skills, and understanding of the importance of diversity during this summer—my ninth at camp—than throughout my life."

—Jojo R., Counselor in Training, Capital Camps

Gallaudet Hillel is engaging Jewish students on campus

"When students have access and exposure to Jewish experiences, they can see a variety of Jewish identities, ways to be involved, and leadership opportunities available to them. Then they’re empowered to connect in the ways most meaningful to them."

—Rhea M., 2015–2017 Board Chair, Hillel at Gallaudet University

Learning

AT EVERY AGE

Jewish Washingtonians are connecting to their heritage and finding meaning through diverse Jewish learning opportunities. As we grow in Jewish knowledge, we become more curious and engaged members of our family and community. Federation and our partners in Jewish learning are making 3,500+ years of Jewish wisdom accessible and relevant to life in 21st century America.

Vicki’s children are learning Jewish values and traditions

Six Federation-supported local Jewish day schools offer educational excellence and substantive Jewish identity-building, based on a strong foundation of Jewish learning and values.

"I am constantly amazed by the ways in which my children show their appreciation and understanding of not only our family’s traditions, but also the variety of Jewish traditions celebrated by their friends and the wider community. I thank Gesher for embracing families from such a broad range of Jewish expression and practice."

—Vicki F., parent of Gesher Jewish Day School students

Robert has become better acquainted with his heritage and culture

Federation partner the Bender JCC of Greater Washington is helping adult learners open new lines of communication.

"I didn’t know Hebrew when I began studying at the Bender JCC five years ago, but I wanted to converse with my Israeli granddaughter during visits to Israel. For me, studying Hebrew has been an awakening of Jewish culture, and I have become better acquainted with my heritage. The lessons are also meaningful as I compose music and sing in the Washington Hebrew Congregation choir, because I have always wanted to understand the words I sing and use in compositions, and the spirit—the Jewish soul—behind the language."

Connecting to Israel

In just seven decades, Israel’s existence has transformed what it means to be part of the Jewish people, and become central in shaping global Jewish culture. Our American Jewish community continues to celebrate the miracle of growth, prosperity, and survival that is Israel’s story. Through educational programs, engaging events, and global travel opportunities, Federation and our partners are building a love for Israel’s culture, society, and innovation.

Federation’s Imagine Israel initiative brings Israel to Greater Washington

Each year, Federation proudly supports a cohort of cultural and educational shlichim (emissaries) to our synagogues and schools, deepening our relationship with Israel by providing firsthand experiences for community members to connect with Israelis.

“I find it fascinating that no matter where you are, you can find common ground with any community on the basis of Israel. Any Jewish person can find a way to connect to the Jewish homeland, whether it be through religion, culture, or something else. I’m so excited to share an Israel that people can find a connection to.”

—Tzachi L., Federation’s Senior Shaliach

ONE OF OUR BIGGEST CHALLENGES—AS A NETWORK OF young people spread throughout Israel—is to be able to share content-based learning and professional training. Thanks to Federation’s investment, we are able to bring our entire network together and provide professional training. This allows us to create the common thread that makes our work more systemic and strategic for years to come.

“I saw this as a symbol of hope for a joined future. It was important to me that the students connect with one another, so they could learn from teenagers like themselves. I believe that, when we get to know each other on a personal level, we are more inclined to listen to others and have empathy, even if we do not think or see things the same way.”

“My Birthright Israel trip was a priceless opportunity and one that I will always treasure. Every day was packed with opportunities to try new experiences, see historical sites, and embrace Israeli culture. I returned home with a reinvigorated passion for Judaism and a deeper appreciation for Israel and its people.”

Charles E. Smith Jewish Day School students are learning from their peers in Israel

Thanks to Federation’s Imagine Israel initiative, high school students at Charles E. Smith Jewish Day School had the opportunity to learn with and from their peers at a Jewish Israeli school and an Arab Israeli school. The school educational partnership was facilitated by The Abraham Fund Initiatives. The students on both sides of the globe participated in a “Dialogue Through Cinema” course throughout the Spring 2018 semester, in which they explored issues of social identity.

“Thanks to Federation’s Imagine Israel initiative, our students connect with one another, so they could learn from teenagers like themselves. Our Jewish community celebrates 70 years of Israeli independence

On Sunday, June 3, 2018, The Jewish Federation of Greater Washington gave community members the opportunity to come together to express their love for Israel. From the exciting Israeli musical acts to the numerous family-friendly projects and enticing giveaways, Israel@70: A Musical Celebration was an amazing experience for more than 2,000 attendees from across our community.

“I saw this as a symbol of hope for a joined future. It was important to me that the students connect with one another, so they could learn from teenagers like themselves. Nourishing Jewish life in Havana

“Thanks to the love and the contributions of the American Jewry, we exist. Now, we have a new generation who attend the Sunday school, who are madrichim (leaders), who learn about Judaism. They will be the future leaders.”—Adela D., President, Cuban Jewish Community

Since the Cuban revolution nearly 60 years ago, immigration to Israel and the United States has diminished the community and forced its remaining members to struggle to support themselves, both spiritually and financially. After the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991, many Cubans returned to their religious roots and to synagogues, which were in need of monetary support and resources. Now supported by Federation partner organizations, donors can make gifts that fit their financial goals and focus their charitable giving on the community issues and organizations most important to them. UJEF donors shape and improve Jewish life for generations. Learn more at shalomdc.org/endowment

We Are Making an Impact

Thank you to our dedicated volunteers, committed leaders, professional staff, generous donors, corporate sponsors, and community partners. Together, we are building an open, connected, and vibrant Jewish community, strengthening and sustaining Jewish life, and addressing critical needs locally and around the world.
