Subject: Update on Ukraine Crisis: March 3, 2022

Dear Colleagues,

While Russian aggression in Ukraine continues unabated, a major humanitarian crisis is unfolding. Jewish Federations, our partners, the Israeli government, philanthropic foundations, and other players are working around the clock to deliver critical assistance, including helping the thousands of Jews attempting to leave the country. Please see this latest Ukraine update on our collective efforts to help the Jewish community of Ukraine.

The situation is changing rapidly and I encourage you to both join and spread the word in your communities about our next Ukraine Crisis Update webinar, hosted by National Young Leadership Cabinet, scheduled for Wednesday, March 9 at 12pm ET / 9am PT. Register here.

We will also be hosting a special gathering for Russian-speaking Jewish professionals tomorrow: Friday, March 4, from 3:30 – 4:15 EST. This will be the dedicated space for Russian-speaking Jewish professionals only, and we invite you please extend this opportunity to RSJ colleagues in your Federations and local agencies. Register here.

Finally, please remember to visit this Ukraine Crisis marketing toolkit for updated social media posts, graphics, talking points, personal stories, videos, and other resources you can use in your fundraising efforts.

All the best,

Shira
