

Hadar

Hadar in Washington DC – Engaging Young Adults | Impact Grant

The program is comprised of two series of classes on ancient Jewish texts, with English translation, made relevant and meaningful to young adults today. The Fall 2021 series will be online, and the Spring 2022 series will be in person, if safely possible.

To facilitate community-building among DC-area young adults, the online series will include small group interactive discussions, and will only be open to people living in the DC-area. The in-person series will be preceded by a communal dinner, to promote conversation and connection.
